POLITICAL & SANCTIONS RISK

- Our experts provide objective and feasible analysis for companies facing political risk exposure. We help clients plan scenarios and "cross the horizon." We track geopolitical developments, policy and regulatory changes, and policy shortcomings to determine how these factors can affect market entry.

- We provide important information about changing political dynamics in some of the world's most complex markets. We provide geopolitical analysis, national political dynamics, and operational risk in the field. In addition to robust political risk analysis, we also help clients navigate key figures that can affect the outcome of a project or transaction.

- We assess the impact of global geopolitics and regional political risks on our clients to help protect their assets and values. We provide feasible analysis of political, business, social, regulatory, and environmental risks in some of the most complex markets in the world.

- Our experts help clients identify risks involving political violence or war, terrorism, cyber attacks, and interference caused by external factors.

COMPETITOR ANALYSIS & INTELLIGENCE GATHERING

- Our team identifies company or personal footprint records, backgrounds, reputations, and risk factors associated with potential competitors.
- Our team detects investigable business activities, disputes, litigations, political connections, corruption and corruption-related issues, regulatory and compliance issues, protracted charges, and other'red marks'.
- Our experts also identify various factors that influence business in the market, such as key stakeholders, established market players, and enforcement and implementation of regulations.
- We help our clients understand the position of other candidates in the bidding process by checking their track records, strengths and weaknesses in those markets, sectors, or jurisdictions.
- Our expert analysis provides strategic and tactical intelligence information that allows them to exploit potential opportunities and avoid traps.

STRATEGIC INTELLIGENCE & COUNTERPARTY RESEARCH

- Our experts offer a global understanding of trends in a particular market or sector and analyze data about relevant market participants to provide insight into potential opportunities, investments, risks, and threats.
- We identify new partners, potential investors, or joint ventures in the markets in which our clients operate and ensure that relevant information is properly disseminated to key decision makers.
- We leverage extensive local and industry expertise and provide guidance to our clients to add value in emerging markets where competitors and reliable and innocent business intelligence may be less available.

STAKEHOLDER MAPPING & ENGAGEMENT PLANNING

- Our experts provide strategic guidance to identify relevant government agencies and stakeholders in the public and private sectors, specifically tailored to client goals.
- We provide intelligence information about critical stakeholders, including detailed analysis of professional track records, commercial interests, and associations/networks, to give them detailed knowledge about their operational environment and support fully informed decision-making.
- Our experts give consideration to companies about the best way to interact with their most important stakeholder.
- We provide client considerations about corporate commitment and responsibility to human rights throughout the value chain. We provide a map of stakeholders and create engagement strategies, including responses and engagement with NGOs and their initiatives.
- Our team uses an extensive public and private sector network to arrange and accompany clients to important meetings, when requested.

DUE DILIGENCE INVESTIGATIONS

- Our team supports the development and implementation of a human rights due diligence framework and process to enable clients to demonstrate a proactive approach to identifying and assessing possible human rights issues throughout their value chains, ranging from child labour, low wages, lack of educational opportunities, and debt slavery to harassment, diversity, and employee relationship standards.

- We offer a range of solutions that focus on providing a realistic and manageable risk-based approach to conducting careful and open surveillance.

- Through rigorous research and investigative techniques, we identify competitors directly or indirectly and check their successes and failures. We investigate complex business chains.

- We also help identify whether competitors may have high-risk suppliers or whether they face legal, regulatory, or reputational challenges. Our reports help in identifying problems and recommendations on how to address and fix them.

RISK MAPPING & ASSESMENT

We help clients map business chain risks related to the regulatory and political landscape, reputation and operational status, and responsibility for environmental and social impact risks. Our experts help clients identify and map business risks at all levels to enable an informed approach to procurement, engagement, and real implementation of due diligence processes, focusing on stakeholder impact.

General Risk Analysis and Mitigation

Identify and analyze threats, vulnerabilities, and risks in client operations, as well as mitigate potential risks supported by scenario planning as a form of early prevention and early detection.

Social, Political and Security Mapping

Social mapping of client operations both before and during operations. The objective is to assist clients in assessing social situations, as well as help mobilize local figures (religious and community leaders) to continue business operations.

Social-Political Baseline Assessment

Mapping socio-political, cultural, and security aspects according to the client's needs. Assessments are carried out in the form of risk assessments

Crisis Management

Manage risk in a crisis situation. The flow of support processes applied is in the form of suggestions and/or assistance implemented through reports/suggestions and tactical measures in the field. The purpose of these activities is to reduce or convert risks into opportunities and to minimize losses.

RISK CONSULTANCY

Risk Consultancy Advisory

We also provide space to advise on risks and impact on business sustainability and refer assistance to third parties for the benefit of clients.

Establishing Access and Network

We can also connect clients with relevant institutions and help them in promoting relationships with their respective institutions. In addition, we can also help clients in building social networks with local communities and/or other non-governmental institutions to create mutually beneficial relationships for clients.

THREAT ASSESMENT REPORT

The aim is to help the client overcome any possible challenges, both external and internal, that can interfere with the client's operations. Our predictive analysis is prepared and submitted periodically and non-periodically, aimed at anticipating the uncertainty of any emerging threat.

Monthly Brief

Provides analytical reports related to the national situation developing within a month, in terms of political, economic, defence and security dynamics, as well as public order.

Annual Reports

Provides a report of analysis related to the national situation every three months, viewed from the political, economic, defence and security dynamics, as well as public order.

Special Reports

Provides analytical reports on extraordinary events that risk obstructing client operations at the strategic and operational levels, such as terrorism and the dynamics of national and international political situations.
